Revolution Is Raging In Russia, Soviet Rulers Face Overthrow

LONDON, Mar. 2.—Reports received in official British circles today confirm dispatches telling of an anti-soviet uprising in Russia. They state that the situation in Russia is serious. The latest official news received, however, did not indicate that the soviet government had lost control.

LONDON, March 2.—The Russian trade delegation here announced today that it was communicating direct with Moscow and that it was authorized to deny the rumors of a revolution in Russia. These, it was declared, were absolutely false and were "started for political purposes or in the interest of stock exchanges."

LONDON, March 2.—Reports from Russia received this morning in Helsinki, Finland, by way of Revel, Estonia, disclose a situation "which may result shortly in the complete overthrow of soviet rulers," says the Central News Helsinki's correspondent.

Fighting is proceeding in many parts of Russia, with Petrograd and Moscow as the centers of the revolutionary movement, the reports add. The fighting in Petrograd is of gigantic proportions, according to the reports, for 300,000 strikers are declared to be arrayed against the soviet troops, whose exact number it is impossible to estimate.

"It is reliably reported," the dispatch says, "that very many have been killed or wounded on both sides in street fighting and that there has been considerable property damage. The naval garrison at Kronstadt has joined the rebels."

"Reports of the revolution in Moscow are meager, doubtless owing to the censorship. One message indicates that large numbers of former officers of the Russian army are leading the insurgents there."

"In Petrograd the military cadets, who have been among the most reliable supporters of soviet rule, suffered heavy casualties. Continued forces of laborers and marines, of whom 100 were former service men, attacked the cadets, drove them through the streets to the schools and quickly overwhelmed the cadets. The surviving cadets only obtained shelter when soviet reinforcements were rushed up."

ALLIES PREPARE TO COLLECT OBLIGATIONS FROM GERMANY

Customs Receipts Will Be Taken Over First

LONDON, Mar. 2.—Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister, consented today to the employment of armed force against Germany, in the event of her non-compliance with the allied reparation demands to the extent of the occupation of Mannheim, by British, French and Belgian troops, and also of the Ruhr ports on the Rhine where coal is hauled. The British premier had hitherto declared himself unwilling to use such military measures. The French long range guns have already been advanced to a point where they will command the city of Essen, the home of the Krupp plant.

LONDON, March 2.—The allies have reached a complete agreement upon their answer to Germany on the reparations question and upon the consequences that will follow her failure to accept their terms, it was learned tonight.

LONDON, Mar. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—German receipts in the occupied territory would be taken over as the first step in enforcing the payment of Germany's obligations should that prove necessary, under plans being drawn up by a committee of the supreme council today.

No indication that the allies intend to occupy additional German territory at present appears in the instructions given by the allied leaders to this committee which is framing a reply to the German reparations proposals made Tuesday.

Instructions given this committee were in substance: FIRST—The allied governments decide to discuss proposals advanced with explicit had faith.

SECOND—Germany shall be reminded of her various violations of the peace treaty.

THIRD—The German government shall be informed of immediate steps the allies are determined to take in beginning to enforce the collection of Germany's obligations.

The allied representatives met at St. James' palace at noon to receive the report of the military and judicial experts who had spent the morning drawing up plans for action. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the British house of commons and one of the government's foremost financial experts, attended the conference for the first time. The Germans today were merely marking time.

The results of yesterday's conference had been communicated to Berlin, but up to the present they have received no new instructions.

After deliberating for an hour on the report of experts, the heads of the allied delegations returned the report with certain suggestions which will be incorporated in a draft of the document. It was announced the experts would assemble at 3 o'clock and that the allied leaders would again go into session at 5 p. m.

DEATH CLAIMS CHAMP CLARK

Champ Clark

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—Champ Clark died here today at 2:10 p. m. in his seventy-first year and within two days of his retirement from the house of representatives after a service of 26 years.

Death was due to an attack of pleurisy and a complication of diseases incident to his advanced age. Up to ten days ago, however, when he developed a severe cold, Mr. Clark had shared actively in the proceedings of the house as Democratic leader.

To his last conscious moments, the former speaker's mind was engrossed with memories of his long legislative career. Just before he lapsed into final unconsciousness early today, those at his bedside heard him whisper: "The question is, the adoption of the conference report."

At Mr. Clark's bedside when the end came were Mrs. Clark, their son, Bennett Clark, and their daughter, Mrs. James M. Thompson, of New Orleans.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but the body probably will be sent to the old home in Bowling Green, Missouri, where the former speaker had expected to retire after the end of his congressional service.

Mr. Clark presided over the house throughout the war, relinquishing the speakership after eight years when the Republicans regained control last year as a result of their victories in the 1918 congressional elections. He was then chosen as Democratic leader in the house.

Close friends believe his death was hastened by the death a year ago of his only grandchild, Champ Clark Thompson, 2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thompson. He was passionately fond of his grandson and associates say that after the child's death they noticed a perceptible change in his condition.

Although he ran ahead of his ticket, Mr. Clark was defeated last November by approximately 2,000 votes.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article by Gen. J. C. Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, was prepared by him for the "New York Evening Post," and is published in The Times through the courtesy of the "Evening Post."

General the Right Honorable Jan Christian Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, served with President Wilson on the League of Nations Commission of the Peace Conference.

Gen. Smuts was an active leader in the Boer army in the field in the Boer war. He is a graduate of Cambridge University in England served as State Attorney for the South African Republic, and was well known as a member of the bar at Cape Town.

Accepting the outcome of the Boer war, he entered the service of the British Government, becoming Colonial Secretary for the Transvaal in 1907 and exercising a leading influence as a delegate in the National Convention of 1910, which drew up the Constitution for the present Union of South Africa. He was Minister of Defence of the South African Government and commanded troops in the campaign against the Germans in East Africa in 1916-17. Promoted to be an honorary lieutenant-general, he was the South African representative in the Imperial War Cabinet in 1917-18. This led to his prominence in the Peace Conference and to his close contact with President Wilson.

On February 8 of this year President Smuts and the South African Party won a decisive victory at the polls over Gen. Hertzog and those who advocated the secession of South Africa from the British Empire.

PRETORIA, Africa, January 8, 1921.

It has been suggested that I should write a short estimate and appraisal of the work of President Wilson on the termination of his Presidency of the United States of America. I feel I must comply with the suggestion. I feel I may not remain silent when there is an opportunity to say a word of appreciation for the work of one with whom I came in close contact at a great period and who rendered the most signal service to the great human cause.

There is a great saying of Mounssen (I believe) in reference to the close of Lincoln's career in failure and eclipse. "On those whom the gods love they lavish infinite joys and infinite sorrows." It has come back to my mind in reference to the close of Wilson's career. For a few brief moments he was not only the leader of the greatest state in the world, he was raised to far steeper heights and became the centre of the world's hope. And then he fell, misunderstood and rejected by his own people, and his great career closes apparently in signal and tragic defeat.

What is the explanation of this tremendous tragedy, which is not solely American, which closely concerns the whole world? Of course there are purely American elements in the explanation, which I am not competent to speak on. But besides the American quarrel with President Wilson there is something to be said on the great matters in issue. On these I may be permitted to say a few words.

World Depended On Wilson

THE position occupied by President Wilson in the world's imagination at the close of the Great War and at the beginning of the Peace Conference was terrible in its greatness. It was a terrible position for any mere man to occupy. Probably no human being in all history did the hopes, the prayers, the aspirations of so many millions of his fellow men turn with such poignant intensity as to him at the close of the war. At a time of the deepest darkness and despair, he had raised aloft a light to which all eyes had turned. He had spoken divine words of healing and consolation to a broken humanity. His lofty moral idealism seemed for a moment to dominate the brutal passions which had torn the old world asunder. And he was supposed to possess the secret which would remake the world on fairer lines. The peace which Wilson was bringing to the world was expected to be God's peace, Prussianism lay crushed; brute force had fallen utterly. The moral character of the universe had been most signal vindicated. There was a universal hope of a great moral peace, of a new world order arising visibly and immediately on the ruins of the old. This hope was not a mere superficial sentiment. It was the intense expression at the end of the war of the inner moral and spiritual force which had upborne the peoples during the dark night of the war and had nerved them to an effort almost beyond human strength. Surely, surely, God had been with them in that long night of agony. His was the victory; His should be the peace. And President Wilson was looked upon as the man to make this great peace. He had voiced the great ideals of the new order; his great utterances had become the contractual basis for the armistice and the peace. The idealism of Wilson would surely become the reality of the new order of things in the Peace Treaty.

Little Child Shall Lead 'Em

IN THIS atmosphere of extravagant and almost frenzied expectation, he arrived at the Paris Peace Conference. Without hesitation he plunged into that inferno of human passions. He went down into the pit like a second Hercules to bring back the fair Alcibiades of the world's desire. There were six months of agonized waiting, during which the world situation rapidly deteriorated. And then he emerged with the Peace Treaty. It was not a

Hays, Fall And Mellon Selections Definite

Andrew W. Mellon Albert H. Fall

Will Hays

MARION, O., March 2.—President-elect Harding has definitely announced the appointment of Will Hays of Indiana, to be postmaster general in his cabinet; Andrew Mellon of Pennsylvania, to be secretary of the treasury; and Senator Albert Fall of New Mexico, secretary of the interior.

James G. Davis, of Pittsburgh, has been mentioned for the labor portfolio, but his appointment has not yet been announced. In response to reports that Colonel George W. Harey, had been offered and had accepted the post of ambassador to Great Britain, Mr. Harding reiterated, that no definite diplomatic appointments would be announced until two weeks after his inauguration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Will H. Hays, will resign as chairman of the Republican National Committee soon after he enters the Harding cabinet, as postmaster general.

Discussion as to the probable successor of Mr. Hays as national committee chairman centered today around A. T. Hottel, national committeeman from Kentucky, and Charles D. Hilles, of New York, a former chairman of the committee. Senator New's name was mentioned, but he was understood to have informed Mr. Harding that he believed he could serve the party better without being burdened with the duties of party chairman.

SANTA FE, N. M., March 2.—That United States Senator Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, may not accept the post of secretary of the interior and may serve out his term in the senate, was declared today by Attorney Mark B. Thompson, of Las Cruces, close friend of Senator Fall.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Acceptance by Federal Judge Landis of the position as supreme baseball arbitrator is inconsistent with the full and adequate performance of his duties as judge and constitutes a serious impropriety on his part, the house judiciary committee held today in recommending full investigation at the next session of congress of impeachment charges made by Representative Welby, Democrat, Ohio.

The report of the sub-committee was adopted unanimously by the full committee, although Chairman Volstead reserved the right to file a minority report.

The sub-committee said the charges of Mr. Welby involved "the legal and moral character of Judge Landis' alleged act in accepting employment as baseball arbitrator at a salary of $42,500 a year" and that it had found "that said act of accepting the employment aforesaid, if proved, is in their opinion, at least inconsistent with the full and adequate performance of the duty of said Keneas Mountain Landis as a United States district judge and that said act would constitute a serious impropriety on the part of said judge."

The report was signed by Representative Drer, Republican, Missouri, as chairman; Representatives Thisted, New York; Boley, Iowa, Republicans; and Gard, Ohio, and Sumners, Texas, Democrats.

Representative Sumners said in a statement that he regarded the charges as perhaps the most important collateral proposition which had arisen with regard to the federal judiciary since the organization of the government.

"I am in favor of going to the bottom of the matter," he declared, "and to the limit of the law in stopping any such practice as that which is charged in the case."

The note invites the United States to participate in the discussion of the coming meeting of the council in April, when final decisions are to be taken regarding the Class A and Class B mandates. The council reminds Secretary of State Cully that the allocation of Class C mandates, covering the German islands in the Pacific allocated to Japan, was made by the supreme council of allies, and that the League of Nations is not concerned with the allocation, but is only occupied with the administration of territories involved.

The council adds that it has forwarded the American note to the French, British, Italian and Japanese governments.

"The note, among other things, said: 'The most fundamental contention brought forward by the American note is that the approval of the United States of America is essential to the validity of any determination which may be reached respecting mandates which have been or may be submitted to the judgment of the council.'"

"The United States was one of the leading actors both in the war and in the negotiations for peace. The rights which it acquired are not likely to be challenged in any quarter."

"But the American government will recognize that the situation is complicated by the fact that the United States, for reasons which the council is not likely to be challenged in any quarter."

Under the plan as it is now being considered both offices of Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of War would be abolished and in their stead would be created a ministry or department of national defense, under the Secretary of National Defense there would be three departments, the air service being given a rank virtually equal to that of the army and navy. These three services would be presided over immediately by under secretaries of national defense for war, for the navy, and for air.

The proposed amalgamation of the armed services is a part and parcel of the plan for a new government. (Continued on Page Eight)

Supreme Council Of The Allies Divided 'Em

PARIS, Mar. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The League of Nations is not concerned with the allocation of the former German possessions in the Pacific, which includes the Japanese mandate group to which the island of Yap belongs, the American government is informed in the reply of the council of the league to the American note of the mandate in question.

The text of the council's reply was made public today.

The allocation was made by the supreme council of the allies, the note points out, but the council invites the United States to be represented at the meeting of the council in May or June when the other classes of mandates are to be taken up for final decision.

The council expresses "satisfaction in the interest shown by the United States government in the question of mandates which the council has long felt to be among the most important and also the most difficult."

"The council," it adds, "cannot only welcomes but feels justified in claiming the sympathy and support of the government which devotes the schedule the council is required to administer."

Regarding the fundamental contention of the American government that approval of the United States is essential to validity of any determination respecting mandates, the note says the rights which the United States acquired as one of the leading actors in the war and in the peace negotiations is not likely to be challenged in any quarter.

"It points, however, that the situation is complicated by the fact that the United States has not ratified the treaty and has not taken a seat in the council of the league."

PROBING DEATH OF BOY AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIM

Officials Waiting On Arrival Of Witnesses; Women Still Being Held

BULLETIN
Coroner J. D. Hendrickson started the holding of an inquest at the office of Sheriff E. L. Kiley, Wednesday afternoon. The inquest was scheduled for one o'clock but had to be postponed until later in order to give witnesses from Clifford time to get to the sheriff's office. Among the witnesses to be present were the members of the young woman from Franklin, Mrs. Edward Egan, mother of Miss Henry and Mrs. A. M. Egan, mother of Miss Davis.
It developed today that the Miss Mary Davis was the Miss Mary G. who obtained a divorce in the Franklin county court a few days ago. The Henry woman is also married. The Davis woman is said to have been married several times. She was released to her mother's home in the afternoon.

A broken neck, crushed skull and left arm torn loose, the injuries suffered by William Williamson, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright of Clifford, near Loudonville, Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock when struck by an automobile driven by two young women of Franklin, resulted in his death about 1:30 o'clock Tuesday night. The lad had been removed to his home a short distance from the accident and "he was attended by his father and several other friends and four doctors and four nurses when he passed away. Each of the three injuries were dangerous and any one of the three was sufficient to cause death.

The fatal accident occurred in front of the Charles Rockwell home on the side of Clifford water tank on the N. & W. The lad had been to the Rockwell home to play with the children and had just left the front door of the home and stepped onto the gravel path when struck by the automobile carrying Miss Mary Davis and Miss Marie Henry of Franklin. The young women had a Ford Sedan and after hitting the boy, it is claimed, put on more power and sped away. Sheriff E. L. Kiley was notified a few minutes after the accident and he telephoned Warren Williams, who had the car stopped. Davis and Gey told the young women, under the arrest of Sheriff Kiley, last night.

The young woman was brought to the city about one o'clock Tuesday night and was held in the local jail all night and today.
Coroner J. D. Hendrickson was also on the scene early. The spot where the lad was hit is where he was picked up in twelve pieces, as supposed of last night by Sheriff Kiley. It is claimed the automobile skidded on the ice and then went over his head. The body was found four feet from the paved road and pieces of shrapnel of the machine show where the machine was off the paved road that day.

According to Coroner Hendrickson, the young woman in their car was going on more speed in an effort to run around the boy.
Eye-witnesses to the accident were M. J. Lewis, John A. Kite, Elmer and Charles Clark who were standing at the side of the pile near the Rockwell home. According to Coroner Hendrickson, their story is that the boy came out of the house and started across the paved road directly in front of the machine.

Charles Clark, Ben Blake, N. & W. section foreman, and Will Hinson, section hand, carried the injured lad to his home on the east side of the N. & W. tracks a short distance from where he was run down. The Wrights live on the Joseph Bean farm.
Dr. D. C. Coleman of Loudonville was called to attend the boy. Dr. Albert Barrett of the city was in consultation with Dr. Coleman at the time and he accompanied him to the Wright home. At examination of the boy's injuries showed that he was beyond medical aid and all the physicians could do was to make his last few minutes of life as comfortable as possible. The lad suffered terribly.

Funeral At Williamson
The body of Mayor Porter of Williamson, N. Y., who died in the Bathurst hospital in Clifford, Tuesday, passed through Portsmouth on the noon N. & W. train today enroute to Williamson, where the funeral services will be held.
Mayor Porter was known by many N. & W. employees.

FINED $1000
For having whiskey in his possession, James Parley was fined $1000 in local court Tuesday. William M. J. was dismissed on a like charge.
To Appear in Court
For parking his automobile in the "motorable strip" Carl Mulvaney has been ordered to appear in municipal court.

Caruso Is Improved
NEW YORK, March 2.—Mr. Caruso is greatly improved. His fever is lower than in several weeks.
There read an official bulletin issued at noon by the hospital five physicians after examination.
Reed Is Fined
Charles Reed, a police of Missouri, Springfield, Adams county, after striking down Tuesday landed his truck in "water tank" and that arrested for his appearance in Municipal court Wednesday for investigation. He admitted guilt and asked Judge John Wright him $1000 fine.

PACKERS' PROPOSAL REJECTED

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The scheme proposed by Swift & Company and Armour & Company for the sale of their stock to the government was rejected today by the Senate. The Senate rejected the plan by a vote of 74 to 16. The plan was proposed by the two companies to raise over $100,000,000 for the government. The plan was rejected because it was considered to be a violation of the anti-trust laws. The companies had proposed to sell their stock to the government at a price of $100 per share. The government had offered to buy the stock at a price of $50 per share. The companies had refused to accept the government's offer. THERE ARE VARIOUS REASONS why the wisest thing to do with savings is to deposit them in THE ROYAL.

The first is, of course, SAFETY—THE ROYAL, located in the exclusive and secure vaults of the Bank of Montreal, has had all years of successful experience in protecting money. Twenty people's deposits are under State supervision.

Other advantages are satisfaction, interest and the opportunity which the Company's officers are always glad to extend to those seeking financial advice as to the best means of using money that has been accumulated.

LONG DEBATE
MEASURE IN THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The naval appropriation bill, the subject of a two hour executive session in the afternoon and a much longer debate on the open floor last night, still had the right of way in the senate today with the possibility of its passage this session believed improved by an amendment designed to bring about a conference of the United States, Great Britain and Japan to consider naval disarmament.

The amendment, originally presented by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, was put before the senate by Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, and was unanimously adopted. It requests the president to call a conference of the three powers named, at which the whole question of naval disarmament would be discussed. The secret session was held at the request of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee, who declared there were some angles of the bill which should not be discussed in public. Relations between the United States and Japan were said to have been the chief subject, although the nation's foreign relations generally were discussed.

NEW BOSTON

The P. C. Johnson grove No. 117 Woodmen Circle held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Davis Hall on Gallia avenue. Much interest was shown in the meeting during which the ladies of the Circle agreed to banquet the boys who are taking part in the minstrel for the W. O. W. The date has not been decided upon. The committee consists of the following members: Social Committee, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Fremont, Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Charlton, Mrs. Nunn, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. P. A. Johnson, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Carver. The Committee on Decorations are Josephine Chase, Robin Herd, and Gerhart Rolfe. One candidate was favorably balloted upon. Mrs. Libbi Pollard of Stanton avenue. The membership enrollment is enlarging rapidly and the work is getting more interesting at each meeting.

Mrs. T. W. Hamilton and son, Carl, Nona Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carney and Mrs. Ida Gilliland all of New Boston, attended the M. E. church revival here last evening. Large crowds attended the M. E. church last night. There were 14 conversions, making a total of 117. The subject last evening was "Christ the Only Source of Salvation." There were 91 present at the cottage prayer meetings yesterday afternoon.

Thomas McCormick, who has been visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCormick of New Boston, has returned home. It has just leaked out that Earl Calhoun of Wheelersburg and Mrs. Laura Fuller Warren of Dayton, formerly of this city, were married in Dayton during the holidays. They intend to go to housekeeping here in the near future. Mrs. Calhoun is at present visiting relatives in Ashland, Ky.

The Winner Class of Porter Sunday school of Watts Station met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Knorr. There were ten members and two visitors present. The evening was spent in social chat, and an interesting program was rendered. Refreshments were served.

Miss Clara Henning of New Boston spent the week-end with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Teach.

Planning State-Wide Evangelistic Campaign

COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 2.—Planning for a state-wide evangelistic campaign early in the spring took up most of the time today at the state convention of pastors here. Members of various denominations considered plans affecting their groups in relation to the interdenominational program. A ten per cent increase in membership should be the aim of the campaign, Rev. Frederick L. Fagley, of New York, declared.

Unpaid Baseball Bet Leads To Murder Of Friend

NEW YORK, March 2.—An unpaid wager of five dollars, made on a base ball game in 1919, was said to have been given as a motive early today by George McCormack, who was arrested on charges of killing a friend, Edward Shannon. Shannon was shot down late last night in the hallway of a Third avenue residence after he had taken leave of a young woman. Police were attracted by the shots pursued McCormack, who stopped and surrendered after his coat and hat had been pierced by bullets. McCormack is alleged to have told police that Shannon, who lost the $5 bet, never had paid, and he had determined to "get even."

Rocco Franko and Charles Vito, principals in a pistol duel fought last night in the narrow hallway of a tenement house, were reported dying in a hospital today. They are said to have quarreled over a woman.

ONLY A SCAR, BUT IT SAVES THE LIFE OF NEGRO MURDER SUSPECT

A scar means little to a lot of people but a scar on the chin of Edward Wright negro held in the New Boston jail as a murder suspect from Pittsburgh is all that saved him probably from getting a death sentence or life sentence in a penitentiary. After his arrest on a charge of stealing coils from an automobile at New Boston the officers thought

Wright answered the description of a negro wanted at Pittsburgh. He had all the scars given out in the description of the suspect. A picture was taken of the man and it was forwarded to Pittsburgh authorities. Tuesday night detectives arrived at New Boston and found that the man held was not the one wanted although they said he looked enough like the man wanted to be his twin brother. In addition to the scars that the suspect has, the negro at New Boston had a scar on the chin and this is all that saved him from being taken to Pittsburgh. The scar also was the means of causing Marshal Frank Hall and Deputy Ray Buckley to lose a $5000 reward offered for the capture of the murder suspect.

Chicken Owners "Cackling"

While the 33 hens owned by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wolfe, 1828 Eleventh street, laid 768 eggs during the month of January and February, 257 and 406 respectively, thereby establishing a fair record, their owners will have to speed 'em up if they are out after a record. William Cline, well known plumber, who resides at 414 Campbell avenue, is the proud owner of 23 hens, who produced 304 eggs during the month of February. The flock of Anemas owned by Mr. Cline are March hatched pullets, and when they develop into hens Mr. Cline expects them to become world beaters so far as the production of eggs are concerned. It will be seen from a little figuring with pencil and paper that Mr. Cline's chickens laid an average of 13 eggs each, while the Wolfe hens laid but 12 each during the same period. Next?

Charles Anderson, chicken fancier of Solon Trail, has an egg record for January and February which he claims beats the record hung up by the 31 hens owned by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wolfe, 1828 Eleventh street. These 31 hens laid 703 eggs in January and February. Anderson has 15 hens and their record so far this year is 333 eggs for January and 426 for February, a total of 1143 eggs for the two months.

Wm. Scott, elevator man in the First National bank building says he has 15 hens born last May and during the month of February they laid 221 eggs.

SCIOTOVILLE AND WHEELERSBURG

SCIOTOVILLE
The revival meeting being conducted at the Christian church of this place, under the leadership of Rev. Sherer, of Wellsville, O., continues with unabated interest. On Monday night 5 people made the good confession and on Tuesday night six more confessed their faith. This brings the number of conversions to thirty and it is hoped the good work will continue. Rev. Sherer is delivering some stirring messages and has won the absolute confidence of the members by his hard, earnest pulpit efforts. A teachers training class has been organized and it is planned to place the various church and Bible school organizations on a high plane. The meetings will be continued throughout this week, the evening services starting at 7 o'clock. Stirring song services precede the preaching and the general public is cordially invited to attend. The church has been filled at practically every service, which indicates the deep interest in the meetings.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will have an all day quilting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Paul Haley of Harrison street. The ladies are urged to be present and bring their lunch.

Miss Nell McGeary of Basil, O., is spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Stewart. The Portsmouth District Rural Life Association will meet Friday, March 4th at the M. E. church here, morning and afternoon session. Everybody, anywhere, invited to attend this meeting.

Ben Sells of Jackson is visiting Miss Merle Roach and family of Main street.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church will hold an all day quilting tomorrow at the church. This is the regular monthly meeting and due day. All members are requested to be present and come prepared to work and bring your lunch.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 20 years, have brown hair and brown eyes. Dolly, do you think I am good looking? Now, Dolly, about a year ago I went with a fellow that I thought the world of and his parents did not want him to go with me and I think he thought a great deal of me, for we were engaged to get married and his parents would not let him get married. They talked about me and they were false, because what they said about me, this fellow joined the army about a year ago and at first he did not write to me, but now he has begun to write to me and I get two letters every week. Dolly, should I answer them or not? The last letter I got he asked me if I was willing to marry him when he came back from the army. I love this man, but I don't know what to tell him. I don't know if I should say yes or no. I think he would make me a fine husband. Now, Dolly, you give me your advice about this for a am puzzled about it.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.
Listen, old dear, I have brown hair, green eyes, weigh about 170—now do you think I am good looking? You see how much you and I knew about each other. As to the young man, if he wants you to marry him, and you are sure that you care enough for him to spend the rest of your days with him and both are of age, and everything else is satisfactory. Of course he may want to respect his parents wishes, but you have as much right to live your life happily as they did. Maybe in time they will like you if you prove yourself a worthy wife. By the time he is out of the army, you may be old enough to think about it more seriously. I think it is all right to answer his letters.

Dear Dolly—Someone asked what day of the week July 7, 1900 came on. You said Tuesday and that July 7, 2001, came on Sunday. The first date fell on Thursday, the next on Friday, OLD FOLK, BOIL, Solonville.
Yes, sir, I said that, and I received my information from a reliable source—the reference calendar which gives dates from 1782 to 1952, inclusive. Tell me the date of your arrival on this earth—about 1776, (I imagine) and I'll tell you the day of the week.

The Cow from Texas was talking, you remember.
"Once on the train, the whistle sounded, the car gave a jerk which nearly knocked us off our feet and then the train moved slowly out of the station and we had started on our journey north. What a journey it was! Sometimes we passed through sections of the country where our eyes were blinded and our nostrils filled with dust, then again, over barren country where we came to a standstill for hours, waiting for a through passenger train to pass us, while we were half frozen by winds from the northwest that blew between the slats of the car, slowly chilling us, yes, even to the marrow in our bones. Then we would go on a few miles, switching, bumping and jerking, until we were bruised and sick with the jolting, and finally got started for some small village where we were unloaded, fed and watered. Even though cold, tired, hungry and homesick, we dreaded these stops because the men who loaded and unloaded us were so cruel. I will not stop to weary you with any more details of our long journey, for I have only related this, thinking that, if any of you were restless and dissatisfied with the quiet and monotony of farm life, it might make you more satisfied to remain at home."
"I thank you all for your close attention and will now say, goodnight."

Your Manners

It Is Correct

To use the terms chamber maid, nurse maid and waitress instead of upstairs girl, nurse girl and dining room girl.
To address a coachman by his surname.
To say "Good morning" and "Good night" to the servants of your household.

To address women servants by their given names.
For a servant to knock before entering a room.

It Is Not Correct

To address a butler by his given name.
For the mistress to speak of her maid-of-all-work as the girl.
To use diminutive names for servants.

For a servant to hand cards and small packages direct. They should be placed on a tray.
For a lady to quarrel with her servants.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

More than sixty members of the Loyd Berean class, First Christian church Bible school, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oda Case, Second and Madison streets, Tuesday evening, and enjoyed a splendid time. At the conclusion of the business session, delectable refreshments were served. The Loyd Bereans are always doing something for others, and the happiest when tossing their silver in the little cut-glass bowl. The attendance last evening was very gratifying to the president, Mrs. Nelle Marlow. In the baby guessing contest, Mrs. P. W. Sheridan was declared the winner and was awarded a solid leather purse—came from the 5 and the store.

The Ladies Aid Society of Old Town church, on the West Side, will meet next week instead of this week.

The class of Loyd Bereans of the Grandview Avenue church was entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Dilly in their home, 2205 Eighth street. Thirty-six members enjoyed the excellent program and luncheon which was served. Mrs. A. B. Colley of 1215 Eighth street will be the hostess of the next meeting.

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

GWENDA PHILOSOPHIZES

John and Gwenda talked until late into the night, and discovered that they had many things in common, despite their different points of views where careers were concerned. Gwenda did not, however, tell him of her determination to tour with the Russian Ballet, for something told her that he would raise huge objections, and point out so many reasons for her not doing so, that it would be a hopeless proposition to ever make him see the light.

During the course of their conversation John did tell her in a sketchy way some truths about Fedya Stepanoff, not vindictively, but rather as one quiet philosopher telling of the different philosophy of another man. He explained that Fedya had come over when still very young and had been terribly handicapped by his wife, all through his early struggle, but that the wife had at first tried her best to reform and become his companion in her own way. Fedya, however, had progressed and had never given her or her attempts any encouragement, so the woman had quickly fallen back into her old ways again and developed into a perfect fiend. The knowledge of his many affairs with other and younger women had not helped the situation for her, and she had started several scandals in the home on different occasions. One young girl had been forced to leave town, after receiving the attentions of Fedya, and his wife had published the fact far and near to the best of her ability. In spite of this, Fedya had kept on having one affair after the other, obviously unconscious of there being any wrong in gratifying his own selfish vanity and desires.

Dr. and Mrs. Otto Apel of Grandview avenue have as guests for a few days Mrs. Apel's sister, Mrs. H. E. Dewey and baby son, Horace, of St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Dewey and baby will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCurdy, of Wheelersburg, until September, while her husband, Rev. Dewey, is studying at Columbia University. Rev. and Mrs. Dewey expect to leave in September for China, where they will serve as missionaries.

Miss Carrie Sowers and Miss Emma Maier will leave Friday for Dayton to represent the Kendall Avenue Church, W. G. at the W. W. G. meeting to be held in that city from the fourth to the sixth. Miss Sowers is one of the state officers of the Ann Hasselton Camp of the W. W. G. Arrangements will be made at Dayton for the assembly to be held at Granville.

The Ellipton W. C. T. U. meeting, which was announced, for Tuesday evening, March 8, will be held Friday of this week at the home of Mrs. Charles Kugelmann, 1301 Grandview avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bannan, Jr., of Bannan Place have as guests Mrs. Bannan's sister, Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, and little daughter, Susan, of Piqua. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are moving to Columbus, where they will soon be settled.

Mrs. A. F. Lechner's Sunday school class of Manly church will meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Miss Edith Cyrus, 1402 Center street.

After a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Richey of Second street, Miss Thelma Richey, has resumed her studies at O. W. U., Delaware.

Philip M. Watts has returned from Columbus, where he attended an assembly of Herald Council No. 3, Royal Seder Masters, in which a large class of candidates received the cryptic degrees of Free Masonry.

Therein lay the difference between foreign and American men. He also told of his own interest in Peru at one time, a real and deep-seated one, which had gradually disappeared when he discovered that she had taken up with Fedya and was evidently carried away with him and his attentions, as so many other women had been before her.

"Right there and then, I realize that Peru and I thought differently on certain subjects," he explained, quite simply. "And so although we still remained friends I gave up all thoughts of her as anything closer and finally lied me to the South Sea Isles. There to learn the true value and simplicity of women."

"Poor little Fern," said Gwenda, softly. "She's only a child after all, and at this minute probably does not know her own mind, not as well as we do."

"All very well, and I'm sure you are right about this," said John, "but you must see that it was impossible to fall in love with a girl who obviously didn't know what she wanted and was all too content to excuse her self and her behavior on these grounds, whenever one spoke to her on the subject."

"Dear me, I give up trying to understand my own sex," said Gwenda. "The women I grew up with were so entirely different from the ones I have met here. They were always so contented, so devoid of kinks and problems outside of their own back porch, so simple and direct in every way. I believe that they get more out of life any time than we who chafe and wander, don't you?"

Coconut Tree's Blossom.
The blossom of the coconut tree is not unlike a head of cauliflower and is esteemed very much as the "cabbage" of the cabbage palm, which grows to some extent in Florida. The coconut blossom is boiled or eaten raw with a salad dressing. From the blossom of the tree the natives also make a pleasant drink, soft when first made, but strongly intoxicating when fermented, and quite often it is allowed to ferment. By one treatment of this flower-liquor it is also made into a native vinegar.

The official also pointed out that his company gives a more complete service throughout the city than most companies in other cities.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO HEAR "THE MESSIAH"

The only remarks of disappointment at the rendition of "The Messiah" Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church, came from those who had expected that the sublime pathetic aria, "The was despised and rejected of men," descriptive of the continually heaped upon the Son of Man, and over whose composition Handel was found in tears, would be one of the numbers on the program.

Stolen Toledo Bonds Sold In New York

NEW YORK, March 2.—Following a clue obtained yesterday in the arrest of two men, police and federal officers today sought to establish the identity of two handlets who on February 16 robbed a Toledo, Ohio, post office of six sacks of mail containing liberty bonds and negotiable securities valued at about $1,000,000.

Frank Miller, salesman, and Joseph Fisher, both residents of Greater New York, were taken in custody following an alleged attempt by the former to sell two $1,000 liberty bonds identified from their numbers as part of the Toledo loot. Fisher, it is said, had disposed of a bond in the same brokerage house the previous day. Eight other bonds, identified as some of those taken in Toledo, have been found here, police said.

Support Your Preacher

The preachers of this city are doing their best to make Portsmouth a still better place in which to live.

They cherish the hearty support of every man, woman and child in this city and vicinity. Come work with them. Don't sit in the bleachers of life and scoff.

You would not live here were there no churches. Conditions would be unbearable. But churches cannot exist without the hearty co-operation of men who want the best for themselves and their children.

Support the churches with your time, your energy, your ability.

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair!
Make It Abundant!

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to thicken and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.

OAK HILL

After a week's visit with relatives at Portsmouth, Mrs. J. E. Dibert has returned to her home here.

The small pox quarantine has been lifted from the homes of Ed Stover and George Sed. The family of Richard Quick is still quarantined.

Lloyd Wagner of Galia was in town Tuesday.

W. E. Dole was a business visitor in Portsmouth Tuesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hollingshead, aged 43 years, passed away at her home in East Wellston, Thursday, after an illness of several years. Death was caused by cancer, complicated by other ailments.

Beside her husband, John Hollingshead, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Hopley Searlock of Jackson, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Canton; two brothers, Ben McDonald of Jackson and Will McDonald of Canton.

The Eisteddfod, in charge of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society was held in Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

Report has it that Smith Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Drummond of Kitchener, is engaged in the undertaking business at Hamden.

The Wellston Eagles have voted to equip a gymnasium and athletic room on the first floor of the building they now occupy.

Injured
Edward Reed an employee of the Wellston Manufacturing Company, met with a painful accident while at his work last week. One of the fingers of his left hand was badly crushed by being caught between two castings.

Death—Williams
Local relatives have received word of the death at Columbus of David W. Williams, aged 68 years. Mr. Williams was a former resident of Oak Hill, but for the past 12 years has been janitor at Hayes Hall at Ohio State University at Columbus. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Miss Anna Mary Williams; three brothers, William W., Daniel J. and John Williams, and three sisters, Mrs. E. A. Davis and Miss Elizabeth Williams of Columbus, and Mrs. D. Davis Evans of Oak Hill. Funeral and burial were held at Columbus.

George Arthur of Clay was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rehm and family of Shively have moved to Pkinton.

MARION, O., March 2.—President-elect Harding's neighbors in Marion and nearby towns bade him Godspeed in the task of the presidency today in a formal farewell speech that brought to the famous front porch one of its largest gatherings.

Marion schools and business houses closed their doors for two hours to observe the occasion and as the final front porch meeting began, church bells and factory whistles mingled their voices in a sonorous message of good will.

As part of the farewell ceremony the city presented to the president-elect and wife a silver plaque which bore the inscription, "God's blessing to you."

His appearance at the front porch meeting was Mr. Harding's only engagement for the day, and he spent the remainder of his time finally closing the affairs of his campaign headquarters and packing up for his long absence. He and Mrs. Harding will leave for Washington late today and will arrive tomorrow afternoon. Less than twenty-four hours before the inauguration they planned to go directly to a hotel and remain secluded until they leave for the inaugural ceremonies.

The program arranged for the farewell ceremonies began shortly before noon and was a simple one. Dr. Thomas H. McAfee, pastor of the president-elect's church, was chosen to present the plaque and after a response by Mr. Harding, there was an informal reception lasting well into the afternoon.

For his text in the presentation address, Dr. McAfee took the inscription of the plaque:

"To Warren Gamaliel Harding and his wife, Florence King Harding, from the citizens of Marion, in testimony of affection and gratitude for loyal friendship, devotion to the public welfare and service to the highest conception of American citizenship, God's blessing to you."

The response prepared by the president-elect was brief, expressing thanks for the manifestation of friendship and asking the support of his neighbors in the work ahead of him.

RECIPE TO CLEAR
A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking An Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and sodium. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys—adv.

California Like Island.
California, covering almost ten degrees latitude, lies well within the temperate zone, with conditions of temperature conducive to a luxuriant vegetation. The state is peculiarly isolated, as the high mountains and deserts to the east offer an impassable barrier to plants from the Atlantic side of the continent, while to the south are the deserts of Mexico and Lower California, and on the west lie the shores of the Pacific. The state thus has many of the characteristics of an oceanic island.

"When you try to eat one of the new cheaper steaks, you are inclined to suspect that the price of rubber has gone even further than you thought." — Joplin Globe.

Much depends upon the age of the animal, the type or breed it happens to be and the feed it has had which determines its physical condition.

Do you care how old the animal is you eat? Do you care whether it was a cow, a bull, a steer or a heifer? Whether a Jersey or a Short Horn?

Whether it was fat and in prime condition—or poor and tough? And do you KNOW? If you don't know and don't care—still—

Do you take particularly keen pleasure in paying the price of first class meat and receiving just anything? Why, some of our mothers wouldn't buy a chicken if they didn't KNOW that it had had plenty of wholesome food to eat.

The older folks who live close to nature on the farm knew what made good chickens, good hogs, good beef—

Nowadays, the city people eat much cold storage meats and they seldom know where their meats come from, or what kind of an animal it was. Commercialism has almost succeeded, even in Scioto county, in closing the gates between city and rural life and interests—but

THE VILLAGE STORE—close to the rural folk—with the idea of serving both the producer and the consumer—willingly pays the producer a fair price for the best farm products and just as gladly delivers them to the city people at an equally fair price.

And this week the offering is:

Young, Short Horn Beef Type Cattle From The Bannon Farm

Stall Fed On Corn And Rich Silage

These cattle have lived in the spacious, modern and sanitary barn on the Bannon farm, free from exposure and disease, with all the health giving food they could eat. Yes, we could have bought, already dressed, steers from the packers for a LESS PRICE and sold the meat for just as much, without all the time and labor of slaughtering; but, well, we DIDN'T KNOW about that meat—and we do know about this.

And, anyway, we are not in business to see how much money we can make but rather to realize an ideal of service.

But to get down to business—here are the prices for this week:

Letters From Our Readers

Mr. Editor:—The "I. I. preacher" after his pretended exposure of what he termed Russellism and a few other remarks, that have no foundation either in fact or fancy, this astute dogmatist demands that his opponent in a challenged discussion, shall (to him in toto) discard Pastor Russell's works completely, and then shall have a two-year course in his (the dogmatist's) creed theology, receipt by him Bible Study; and after he has thus brought his mind into a condition equal to this wonderful exponent of churchianity, they can meet on equal terms; and all this to prove his sincerity.

Mr. Spring has been a consistent student of the Bible for the last 15 or 16 years; has lectured on Bible topics in all the large cities in a radius of 200 miles and in the larger number of the smaller cities, also appearing before increasingly large Portsmouth audiences, not less than 100 times in the last six or seven years. The ridiculousness of this preacher's proposition, will appear in a moment to any reasonable mind. In fact it is on a par with the boy's banter to his companion, "Gimme bite yer apple, an' I'll show yer me sore toe!"

After the fourth lesson he said to her: "Why, madame, do you always bring rhapsodies, études, swift music? Why not a quiet number, something that shows your phrasing—some Andante?" "Mr. Bauer," replied the pupil, "your lessons are too expensive—I can't afford to play the slow music."

ROSEMAN DISCUSSES HIS WIFE'S TROUBLES

Akron Man Says Tan-lac Has Simply Done Wonders for His Wife And She's Now In The Best of Health.

"Before my wife got Tan-lac she was so badly run down and weak she could hardly hold out to sweep one room, but now she is as strong and well as she ever was," said Max Roseman, 731 Edgewood Ave., Akron, recently. Mr. Roseman is in the motor driving business, and is well known, having been a resident of Akron for several years.

"For a long time my wife suffered with stomach trouble so bad nothing she ate seemed to agree with her. After meals she complained of terrible cramping pains, and her food seemed and bloated her with gas until she could hardly get her breath. Her nerves were so on edge she would be come upset and tremble, like a leaf at just any sudden noise. Nights she couldn't sleep well, and was always tired and worn out.

"I kept hearing so much about Tan-lac I finally decided to see if it would help her, so I took some home and she began taking it. Well, it wasn't long until she was feeling better, and now she has such a fine appetite she seems hungry all the time, and everything agrees with her perfectly. She has gained several pounds in weight, and her nerves are perfectly quiet so that she sleeps like a child every night. In fact, Tan-lac has simply done wonders for her, and I'm glad to tell about it for what it may be worth to others."

Tan-lac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Stretch Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town—adv.

Harding Plans To Combine

of Mr. Harding's very earnest desire to bring about a simplification of the government's method of doing business. Mr. Harding has been considering the matter for some time and has had expert advice from all the various angles of what would constitute a very complicated proposition. The President-Elect believes that in the last analysis, however, the solution will prove very simple.

The closest possible co-operation is desirable at all times between the army and navy. This is particularly true in the matter of economy in time of peace. It is equally true in the matter of effective operation against the enemy in time of war. The statement has been made to Mr. Harding that during the recent war the United States lost millions of dollars as a result of the competitive buying of the war and navy departments. Each department head and his staff naturally desired to make the best possible showing. The War Department complained during the first months of the war that the navy department, being better equipped for action, grabbed all available supplies in the open market and left the War Department to shift for itself as best it could.

Under the Harding plan the army and the navy services would keep their own personnel, their own staff departments and their own traditions, but in all the larger matters of policy they would be under a single executive head. Under this plan furthermore, advocates of a ministry of air would come into their own.

At present there is an army aviation service, a naval aviation service, and a postal aviation service. Whether the postal service would be combined with the others as a part of the system of national defense remains to be worked out but having so close a relationship of the training of skilled flyers, who would be invaluable in time of war, it is assumed that eventually it would be included in the general air service. Many of the best students of aviation have declared no real progress in the development of that service could be made in this country except through a combination of effort. Secretary of the Navy Daniels has been a stumbling block in any suggested combination of the army and naval services. He has been jealous of the naval service and during the war was keenly delighted that the navy made better flying progress than the army. Mr. Harding would not wipe out friendly rivalry between the services, but desires that in the common good the latest developments in other service shall be the property of both.

From a sound military point of view as well as from the standpoint of economy, the President-Elect believes a great stride forward would be made in the combining of the two departments and the creation of the air service as the third arm of the new department of national defense. Legislation action will be required, of course, to accomplish the ends desired and Mr. Harding as President, will consult freely with the members of the Senate and House committees on naval and military affairs before attempting to work out the details of the amalgamation. The plan, as will be readily seen, involves necessary changes in the congressional committee system also, the existing committees on naval and military affairs being abolished in favor of a House and Senate committee on National Defense.

Pending the amalgamation of the army and navy departments the new secretaries of these services in the Harding cabinet will set about soon after March 4 to reorganizing their respective departments completely. In the War Department this will involve among other things, the early appointment of a new chief of staff, present chief, General March, being generally credited with having influenced Secretary Baker in much that was done, whether for good or ill. In the navy department there probably will be an early sweeping out of virtually all of the Daniels appointments in bureau and staff positions, the great bulk of the navy being represented as crying for a new deal all round. Mr. Donahy, who will succeed Mr. Daniels as Secretary of the Navy, is a very sound man, he will proceed with all proper caution and his friends expect him to bring the navy department back to its old high morale. He will not stand for departmental politics or favoritism and under his every officer and man is assured of a square deal.

The other viewpoint, however, is expressed by Senator Capper, who said today:

"Yes, I am disappointed, and I believe the people of the country will be disappointed. I do not wish to criticize the Supreme Court but it is unfortunate that a technicality would be permitted to thwart the purpose of a law and give the people the worst of it."

"It comes at a poor time, too, for the morale of our people is disturbed by the fact that lots of persons made large profits out of the war and will probably go scot free."

"Of course, there is not so much profiteering nowadays as there was, but there can be no doubt that the presence of the Lever Act on the statute books acted as a restraining influence. Psychology of the present decision is bound to be discouraging and I am going to consult the lawyers in the Senate and see whether we cannot draft a law that will reach the profiteers."

Many pending cases will still be prosecuted by the Department of Justice under the Sherman anti-trust law but it was admitted that the effect of the decision would be to drop the majority of the pending suits and investigations. Indeed, the Department to some extent shares the view of Senator Capper when he says that at present there is very little profiteering, and that investigations cannot do as much good now as formerly. Officials are inclined to think that as deterrent the Lever Act has outlived its usefulness and that the economic laws of supply and demand are operating again since sources of supply have been opened through the return of post-war conditions. It cannot be said that the department views with satisfaction, however, the release from prosecution of scores of individuals who were guilty of profiteering but who cannot now be reached because of the collapse

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Menthio-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The mentio sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Menthio-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Menthio-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.

Decision

Generally speaking, disappointment and satisfaction were expressed in the national capital depending upon the persons interviewed. Men like Senator Capper of Kansas Republican, said frankly that the decision was unfortunate and would have a bad effect psychologically. He hoped something could be done to correct the situation by new legislation. On the other hand, inquiry among lawyers at the department of justice disclosed the viewpoint that Congress probably would be unable at any time to draft a law which would combine limits prescribed by the Supreme Court as constitutional. Indeed some went so far as to suggest that since the Supreme Court insisted that the law must state definitely what is a fair standard of prices so as to be able to inform an accused person of exactly what the charges are against him, it was certainly doubtful what the supreme court may say hereafter about the validity of the Sherman Anti-Trust law since that statute was two as vague and indefinite as the Lever Law and made no more attempt to define what is reasonable or unreasonable restraint of trade any more than it had been possible to say what a reasonable or unreasonable profit would be.

Certainly a tendency of the supreme court to permit the laws of supply and demand to operate without restraint of law is observed by many persons inside and outside of congress who think the law making body should let business alone at all times and that the consumer had his own remedy when prices went too high.

council would be the last to question has so far abstained from ratifying the peace treaty and has not taken her seat on the council of the League of Nations."

In referring to the postponement of the consideration by the council of the mandate for the former Turkish possessions, including Mesopotamia, which would result in a delay to final conclusions until the United States had an opportunity to express its views, the note after inviting the United States to take part in the discussions of these mandates, and the African mandates, says:

"A problem so intricate and involved as that of mandates can hardly be handled by an interchange of formal notes. It can only be satisfactorily solved by personal contact and by the direct exchange of opinion."

After pointing out the council is without the same liberty of action regarding the mandates for the Pacific as in the case of the other types, the note continues:

"Having been notified in the name of the allied and associated powers that all the islands north of the equator had been allocated to Japan, the council of the league merely fulfilled its responsibility of defining the terms of the mandate. Consequently, if a misunderstanding exists as to the allocation of the Island of Yap that misunderstanding would seem to be between the United States and the principal allied powers rather than between the United States and the league."

"However, in view of the American contention, the council of the league

Cold, Fair Weather Inauguration Day

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Cold and probably fair weather will prevail here Friday during the inauguration of President-elect Harding, according to a special inauguration day forecast issued today by the weather bureau. On the face of indications available, the government experts said; partly cloudy weather Thursday, would turn cold Thursday afternoon and clear up Friday, but with the cold coming. No forecast as to temperatures was included.

The text of the predictions follows:

has hastened to forward the American note to the governments of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

"The council hopes these explanations will prove satisfactory to the United States government and that reciprocal good will find solution in harmony with the generous spirit which inspired the principles of mandates."

The note, which bears the date of March 1, is signed by Dr. B. A. Cunha, president of the council of the league.

Humanity

WILL this judgment, born of momentary disillusion and disappointment, stand in future, or will it be reversed? The time has not come to pass final judgment on either Wilson or any of the other great actors in the drama at Paris. The personal estimates will depend largely on the interpretation of that drama in the course of time. As one who saw and watched things from the inside I feel convinced that the present popular estimates are largely superficial and will not stand the searching test of time. And I have no doubt whatever that Wilson has been harshly, unfairly, unjustly dealt with, and that he has been made a scapegoat for the sins of others. Wilson made mistakes, and there were occasions when I ventured to sound a warning note. But it was not his mistakes that caused the failure for which he has been held mainly responsible.

Humanity Itself Failed

LET us admit the truth, however bitter it is to do so for those who believe in human nature. It was not Wilson who failed. The position is far more serious. It was the human spirit itself that failed at Paris. It is no use passing judgments and making scapegoats of this or that individual statesman or group of statesmen. Idealists make a great mistake in not facing the real facts sincerely and resolutely. They believe in the power of the spirit, in the goodness which is at the heart of things, in the triumph which is in store for the great moral ideals of the race. But this faith only too often leads to optimism which is sadly and fatally at variance with actual results. It is the realist and not the idealist who is generally justified by events. We forget that the human spirit, the spirit of goodness and truth in the world, is still only an infant crying in the night and that the struggle with darkness is as yet mostly an unequal struggle.

Real Peace Still To Come

PARIS proved this terrible truth once more. It was not Wilson who failed there, but humanity itself. It was not the statesmen that failed, so much as the spirit of the people behind them. The huge aspiration for a new world order of peace and right and justice—however deeply and universally felt—was still only feeble and ineffective in comparison with the dominant national passions which found their expression in the Peace Treaty. Even if Wilson had been one of the great demi-gods of the human race, he could not have saved the Peace. Knowing the Peace Conference as I knew it from within, I feel convinced in my own mind that not the greatest man born of woman in the history of the race would have saved that situation. The great hope was not the heralding of the coming dawn, as the people thought, but only a dim intimation of some far off event towards which we shall yet have to make many a long weary march. Sincerely as we believed in the moral ideals for which we had fought, the temptation at Paris of a large body to be divided proved too great. And in the end not only the leaders but the peoples preferred a bit of booty here, a strategic frontier there, a coal field or an oil well, an addition to their population or their resources—to all the fair allurements of the ideal. As I said at the time, the real Peace was still to come, and it could only come from a new spirit in the peoples themselves.

Covenant Only Thing Saved

WHAT was really saved at Paris was the Child—the Covenant of the League of Nations. The political realists who had their eye on the loot were prepared—however reluctantly—to throw that innocent little sop to President Wilson and his fellow idealists. After all, there was not much harm in it. It threatened no present national interest, and it gave great pleasure to a number of good practical people in many countries. Above all, President Wilson had to be conciliated, and this was the last and the greatest of the Fourteen Points in which he had set his heart and by which he was determined to stand or fall. And so he got his way. But it is a fact that only a man of his great power and influence and dogged determination could have carried the Covenant through that Peace Conference. Others had seen with him the great vision, others had perhaps given more thought to the elaboration of the great plan. But his was the power and the will that carried it through. The Covenant is Wilson's covenant to the future of the world. No one will ever deny him that honor.

Covenant Great Document

THE honor is very great, indeed, for the Covenant is one of the great creative documents of human history. The Peace Treaty will fade into mortal oblivion, and its provisions will be gradually obliterated by the great human tides sweeping over the world. But the Covenant will stand as sure as fate. Forty-two nations gathered round it at the first meeting of the League at Geneva. And the day is not far off when all the free peoples of the world will gather round it. It must succeed, because there is no other way for the future of civilization. It does not realize the great hopes born

NUXATED IRON

Helps make rich red blood and revitalize weak nerves

YOU MAY BE A BETTER MAN AT 45, THAN THE YOUTH OF 25

If you keep your blood rich in iron to give you plenty of "stay there" strength and endurance.

In an account of a severe mountain climbing test, a New York newspaper states that 20 percent of those who accomplished this feat were 41 years and over. It is therefore shown that you may be a better man at 45 than the husky strapping of 25 if you take care of yourself and keep your blood filled with iron. Prize fighters, wrestlers and athletes have learned the value of plenty of plain course foods in their training as such a diet helps supply their blood with iron. Nature puts plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the peels of vegetables to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase in rheumatism, anemia, iron starvation of the blood, with its devastating weakness, nervousness and other attendant ills. If you are not strong and well, if you lack bodily and mental vigor, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse, but take a state of nervous prostration or until your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but take some organic iron like NUXATED IRON at once to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out tissues. Organic Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in minerals, it is gentle and does not irritate the teeth nor disturb the stomach. You can even eat it if you wish. It often increases your body and mental vigor in two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. At all druggists.

of the war, but it provides the only method and instrument by which, in the course of time, those hopes can be realized. Speaking as one who has some right to speak on the subject of national conceptions, objects and methods of the Covenant, I feel sure that most of the present criticism is based on misunderstandings. These misunderstandings will clear away, one by one, the peoples still outside the Covenant will fall in behind this banner, under which the human race is going to march forward to a triumph of peaceful organization and achievement undreamed of by us children of an unhappier era. And the leader who, in spite of apparent failure, succeeded in inscribing his name on that banner has achieved the most enviable and enduring immortality. Americans of the future will yet proudly and gratefully rank him with Washington and Lincoln, and his fame will have a more universal significance than theirs.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—Technical conditions were unchanged at the sluggish opening of today's stock market. Oils and the less prominent industrials and specialties were subjected to further selling pressure. General Asphalt, which featured the reaction of the previous session, soon recovered an additional loss of 2 points. Atlantic and Lehigh Valley forfeited a substantial part of its recent spectacular rise. The entire list became more unsettled within the first half hour, when extensive offerings of Pennsylvania shares caused a further decline of 1 1/2 points and provoked fresh liquidation among investment funds.

In the broader reversal of the first hour's trading, oils, steels, equipments and coppers were again most vulnerable. American International and United Fruit fell 1 1/2 and General Asphalt preferred dropped to 85 compared with the previous sale of 106 1/2, subsequently rallying 5 points. Crucible, Vanadium and Pressed Steel lost 1 1/2, as well as Utah Copper and National Lead. Rails, especially eagles, followed the general trend. A vigorous rebound in Atlantic Gulf, common and preferred, and extensive covering in oils imparted a measure of steadiness to the list before noon. Exchange on London continued to ease.

Successive reactions and rallies attended today's professional stock market operations, but representative issues displayed comparative firmness. Sales approximated 475,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Mar. 2.—Decided optimism in the price of wheat resulted today from general buying based largely on talk of strained European political conditions. Opening quotations, which ranged from 7 1/2 to 2 1/2c higher with March 1.40 to 1.60c and May 1.58c to 1.78c, were followed by something of a reaction and then by a rise higher than before.

Corn sympathized with the action of wheat. After opening, 1 1/2 to 3c higher, including May at 63 1/2 to 70c, the market sagged a little, but later scored fresh gains.

Prices closed unsettled, 1c to 1 1/2c higher, with March 1.67 1/2 to 1.68 1/2 and May 1.59 1/2 to 1.60 1/2.

These were strong as a result of the bids in other cereals, starting 3c to 1c to 3c higher, with May 45 1/2 to 47 1/2 and hardening still more.

Realizing sales on the part of holders had a bearish effect on provisions.

The finish was steady, 3/4c to 1c net higher, with May 70 1/2 to 70 1/2.

was again returned to congress and had served continuously since that time. He soon became a national figure and was chosen speaker when the Democrats gained control of the house during the last year of President Taft's administration.

Immediately after the death of Mr. Clark was announced the house recessed for thirty minutes. Representative Rucker, Democrat, Missouri, who made the announcement, said it was Mr. Clark's wish as expressed through his son, that there be no interruption of congress in its closing days.

Immediately on reconvening after the thirty minute recess, the house adopted a resolution providing for the payment to Mrs. Clark of a year's salary totaling about $8,000.

Members of Mr. Clark's family left the funeral arrangements to congressional leaders, who expressed the wish to have services Saturday in the rotunda of the capitol before sending the body to Bowling Green for burial. A large delegation of representatives and senators will accompany the body to that place.

OBITUARY

Lafayette Duty

Lafayette Duty, who lived near Greenup, passed away at his home there yesterday. He was 80 years old. His death followed an attack of acute indigestion.

David Stransbaugh

David Stransbaugh, 72, passed away at his home at Slocum Station Tuesday morning, death being caused by rheumatism from which the aged man had been a sufferer for many years. In January he contracted a severe cold which aggravated his condition and he grew steadily worse. He had been a resident of Slocum Station for four years having come to that place from Gallipolis. Before that he had lived for many years in Illinois.

David Stransbaugh was born in Harrison county, Ohio, on October 6, 1848 and lived here for several years. He was married May 28, 1871. Thirty years ago he became a member of the Methodist church. When he came to Slocum he became a member of the Porter Free Will Baptist church.

His wife passed away eight years ago. One sister, Mrs. Hannah James, of Fort John, Kansas, and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Correll of Slocum Station, survive.

Funeral services will be held from the Porter Free Will Baptist church Thursday morning at ten o'clock with Rev. Kluder in charge. Burial will be in Turner cemetery.

Miss DeMintio Funeral

Hundreds of friends of Miss Olga DeMintio, who passed away early Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews of Rose Ridge, gathered at the Second Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral services and pay their last respects to the beloved friend who was so suddenly called from their midst. The church was crowded with people for the services and the profusion of flowers bespoke the love which all her friends had for her.

The body was brought to the church at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon and laid in state until three o'clock. During this time many friends came to make their final adieus.

A beautiful sermon was preached by Rev. George T. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of which Miss DeMintio had been a faithful member for many years. He told of the loving disposition of the popular girl and her kindness toward all. He gave her life as a model for all parents to follow in bringing up their children as Miss DeMintio joined the church at the age of nine and ever remained faithful and constant in her religious duties.

The many friends she had among the school teachers and pupils of the city was fittingly shown by the exceptionally large number who were in attendance at the funeral.

Two beautiful duets, "Over The River" and "The City Four-Square," were sung by Mrs. C. E. Nodder and Mrs. R. P. Kimble. Miss Anna Cramer was the organist.

The pallbearers, all immediate friends of the family, were W. L. Quested, William Clayton, George Keller, Charles Baas, C. T. Anderson and M. J. Haywood.

Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery beside her mother who passed away ten years ago.

In Memoriam

Wins Distinction By Its Better Qualities

The Cleveland Six has won a place of distinction among light cars because of its better qualities. Designed for every-day service on every kind of roadway, it is sturdily built for endurance. It seeks no glory in speed contests, but earns praise for its performance in doing well all that its thousands of owners expect of a good car.

The exclusive Cleveland Six motor, of the overhead valve type, quiet and responsive in an unusual degree, is alive with power. Power sufficient to give all the speed that any thoughtful driver would ever want to use and to take the loaded car on high up long climbing roadways.

Bodies of dignity and beauty are mounted on the Cleveland chassis. All are splendidly finished and upholstered.

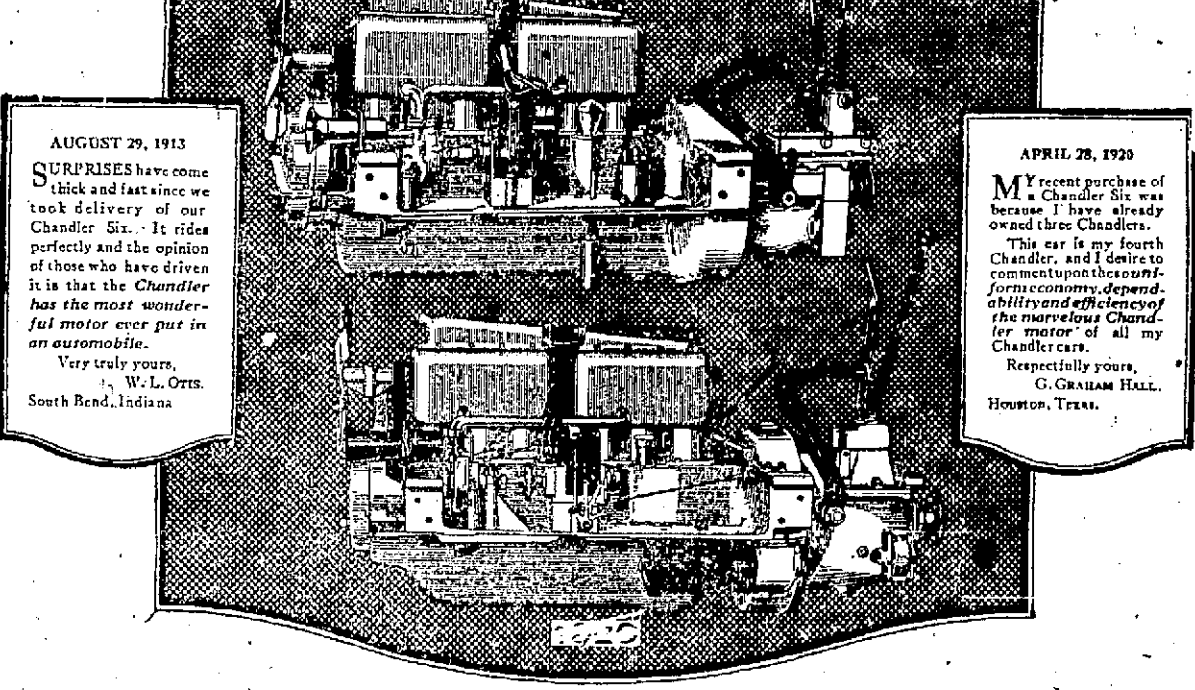

Come see the Cleveland. Ride in it. Drive it. Then you will know.

Christ Sturgall

After an extended illness of lung trouble, death about 10:30 last night claimed Christ Sturgall at his home on Bloom street, Sciotoville. He and his family moved from Waverly to Sciotoville about a month ago. The deceased had been seriously ill only several days.

Christ Sturgall was a native of Pike county. He was about 47 years of age. His widow and six children survive. Mr. Sturgall was an employee of the Chillicothe. He had been working on timber lands about Sciotoville in the interest of the Meade Company.

The body was taken to Waverly Wednesday afternoon, the funeral and burial to be held there.

Mrs. Sarah D. Cuppett

Death about 11:30 o'clock last night claimed Mrs. Sarah D. Cuppett, widow of Henry H. Cuppett, the third summons coming at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Odel, of 915 Gay street. Mrs. Cuppett had been ill had been a resident of this city about fourteen years, coming here after the death of her husband.

Mrs. Cuppett was 60 years of age. She was born Sept. 29, 1851, at Point Run, on the West Side, and spent all her life in Scioto county. She was a daughter of John and Eliza Webb, pioneers of the county.

She was married in 1868 and of the ten children born to this union, the following five survive: Harry D. and John P. of Friendship, W. D. of Virginia and Mrs. Nora Odel of 916 Gay street; two brothers, Lewis Webb of this city and Herman Webb of Greenfield, O.; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Walker of Second street, also survive.

Mrs. Cuppett was a member of the Friendship M. E. church of the West Side.

Funeral services will be held from the home, 916 Gay street, Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. C. E. Chandler of Tiglow church in

THE MOVIES

The Toll Gate Is Wm. S. Hart's masterpiece—Famous Star Spent Three Years in Developing It—Six Months To Film It—Open at The Lyric Tomorrow.

Three years ago William S. Hart conceived the idea for a great western story. In the months that followed, he worked over it, dreamt of it, and polished it to perfection. It was considered that it would make the greatest motion picture of his career. But Mr. Hart would not attempt the filming of the story until he could put into it the full expenditure of time, money, and care that it deserved.

Now that the famous western star is making his own productions, with his own company and under his own supervision, it was natural that he should start at once producing his great story as a photoplay. It was also natural that he should put into the production every ounce of energy, ingenuity, and dramatic talent that he possessed; that he should procure the best supporting cast available; in short, that he should make heaven and earth to make this story his film masterpiece.

The result has been that after six months of the most arduous labor "The Toll Gate" has reached the screen. It is Bill Hart's very own story—the one he has always longed to do. The public will undoubtedly hail it as the greatest Hart picture ever produced.

The Order of the Golden Fleece is a bit of royal foolishness instigated by Philip the Good of Burgundy, about 1429, on account, it is said, of the profit that had come to him by wool-raising. The order is still in existence, its membership being confined to the rulers and crown princes of Europe, with now and then an Asiatic potentate.

Spectacular, Lavish, Daring, Thrilling—Don't Miss June Caprice and George B. Seitz in the Pathe Special Feature, "Rogues and Romance," at The Eastland Theatre Tomorrow and Thursday—A Romance of a Siam-Jang Yank in Sunny Spain.

Program Tonight
I—Overture, Spanish Waltz, Eastland Orchestra.
II—Pathe Presents George B. Seitz in "Rogues and Romance"—6 acts.
III—Universal Presents "International Weekly News."
IV—Universal Presents "Fresh From the Farm," a Century Comedy.

For its second attraction in Pathe Week the Eastland Theatre offers George B. Seitz and June Caprice in a six act thriller, "Rogues and Romance."

Spain! The blossom land of passion; Spain! The fiery flower land of romance; Spain! The fascinating, blazing, beautiful.

That's what Reggie Harding, Yank adventurer and millionaire, ran into when he sought his American beauty in that sunny land of scarlet and yellow.

A Spanish siren flashed her eyes. A reckless rogue flashed his steel. His blue-eyed beauty spurned his love. Little did he dream that the red-lipped maid whose flying heels and willowy body whirled the wild fan-dance, could kick up a flaming rumpus. But she did.

And all because of two women the battle raged. First with words and eyes. Then cannons boomed and bullets whistled. Bing, bang! zowie! What a rip roaring combat. Thousands rushing, fighting, shooting, pell-mell. Stupendous! Spectacular! Realistic! Sensational!

Break a date! Miss a train! But see "Rogues and Romance," featuring George B. Seitz, the Thrill King, and June Caprice, the blue-eyed beauty. It's a spine-tingling romantic world heater.

BLANCHE SWEET
HER UNWILLING HUSBAND

Tonight Is Your Chance to See Blanche Sweet in "Her Unwilling Husband" and Charlie Chaplin in "The Champion" at The Exhibit Theatre—A Big Double Program of Laughs.

Blanche Sweet has made such rapid strides as a comedienne since she became a Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe star, that it is difficult to say just where she is headed for. Certainly, "Her Unwilling Husband" puts her on a solid footing as a portrayer of high comedy.

"Her Unwilling Husband," as enjoyed by Eastland Theatre audiences yesterday, is a bit risqué. It skates skittishly on the dangerous edges of the brink of propriety, but it never slides off. This is due to the careful direction of Paul Seardon and the intelligent acting of Miss Sweet, Edwin Stevens and Albert Roscoe.

The story concerns an actress who was spending her summer holiday at the island home of her married sister. While alone one night a friend of her brother-in-law arrived.

His arrival was quickly followed by the girl's ex-fiance. Feeling the need for protection from him, the girl jumped from the frying pan into the fire by introducing the stranger as her husband.

Charlie Chaplin in a revival of his big success, "The Champion," is the added attraction tonight at the Exhibit.

Bigelow Entertains First Presbyterian Tonight

Tonight at seven-thirty at Bigelow M. E. church another Union Prayer meeting will be held, in which the First Presbyterian will join with Bigelow. At this service Rev. W. C. Boyd of First, will speak, and Dr. Chandler of Bigelow, will take charge of the preliminary exercises. A splendid song service is planned to precede the sermon, and members of both churches are urged to attend in as large numbers as possible.

The Cottage Prayer meetings are meeting with most favorable results throughout the city, and a splendid spirit of optimism seems to be manifesting itself as members of the two churches, different in creed but marvellously united as to purpose, unite together in the homes of one another, and pray and praise and testify.

There will be no Cottage Services tonight, but they will be resumed Thursday and Friday nights. Tomorrow night the meetings will be as follows:

Mrs. Frank D. White, 290 Court street; Mrs. L. C. Peel, leader.
Mrs. Lee Smith, 618 Sixth street.
The Misses Knowles, 1015 Second street; Mr. James Maxwell, leader.
Mr. John Grimm, 1618 Sixth street; Miss Josephine Banta, leader.
Mrs. J. D. Mackay, 1314 Ninth street; Mr. Michael Englehart, leader.
Mrs. C. E. Liddy, leader.
Mr. C. E. Morrow, 1517 High street; Mr. Maurice A. Cox, leader.
All meetings will begin at seven-thirty.

The Christian Endeavorers and Epworth Leaguers will hold a joint meeting all their own at the home of Miss Oleta Albertson, 634 Second street. The leader will be Miss

Congress Votes To Repeal Virtually All War Laws

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Congressional action has been completed on the resolution to repeal virtually all the war laws, the house voting to concur in senate amendments. The measure now goes to the president.

As finally acted on the Lever food and fuel act would be among the laws repealed by the resolution. The trading with the enemy and liberty bond acts, and the statute creating the War Finance Corporation would remain in force.

The resolution provides for the restoration of the original Espionage act of 1917, and the repeal of the more drastic mandatory law of 1919.

FAREWELL OF CABINET TAKEN BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Wilson met with his cabinet late yesterday for the last time and with the meeting's close said farewell to the ten men who have been his official advisors, four of them since he entered the White House in 1913.

The final meeting was held in the executive offices, the president walking over from the White House, attended by an attaché and aided by his cane. After an hour and a half spent, as cabinet members said, in a discussion of official business and otherwise, the president autographed for each of his advisors a photograph taken at last week's meeting. Then Mr. Wilson said good-bye to each member. He greeted each in turn and chatted for a few moments before shaking hands. At times the president's voice trembled as he extended his thanks for past services and good wishes for the future.

Each of the department heads expressed to the chief executive a few words of appreciation for his helpfulness and co-operation with their respective departments. They have arranged to purchase the chair which the president has occupied at cabinet meetings during his two administrations for presentation to him before his departure from the White House Friday.

What Is The Actual Worth Of Your Car?

Does the motor purr faithfully and constantly remind you that it will take you there and back? Are the tires GOOD tires? Do they sing along a song of assurance that they will take you there and back? No? Then your car is of speculative worth. You need

Remember

Value is the thought which comes first in our dealings, both with the rebuilt cars we sell and with the entire line of new BUICKS, which we market. We throw every safeguard around the interest of our customers. They can come into our rebuilt car department, and buy any car we offer at the price fixed with the absolute assurance of getting full value. It is our contention that a PRICHARD rebuilt car offers better value than the general run of cheap, poorly constructed new cars, remember our very liberal terms.

DISCUSS WAGE AGREEMENTS

CLEVELAND, O., March 2.—The wage commission of the National Association of Window Glass Workers and the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers met here today to discuss working rules. The wage question was decided at a conference here a month ago.

At that time a deadlock resulted when the union rejected a proposal of the manufacturers providing that the working week be increased from 40 to 45 hours.

Fifty thousand men have been idle since the wage agreement expired January 15, according to Joseph Newman, president of the union.
